They Say⁹

"In time, with the growth of education—with more knowledge, more training of the mind, given to more people—this Soviet 'man divided' must inevitably come to have more and more doubt about the Communist system as a whole."—ALLEN W. DULLES, director of the United States central intelligence agency.

"Democracy is more interested in the personal and spiritual development of men than in perfecting the process by which men make their living or carry on the affairs of life."—ARTHUR E. HOLT, writer.
